Located between the Washington mainland and Vancouver Island, Orcas is considered by many to be the most beautiful of the San Juan Islands.

Rural in nature, the island features a variety of lodging possibilities, from charming Bed & Breakfasts to Inns & Resorts. Shopping and activities on Orcas are nearly endless. Whether you’re looking for art galleries featuring Northwest artists or a hike in the 5200-acre Moran State Park, Orcas provides you with a variety of year-round activities.

The island – noted by locals as looking like an upside-down horseshoe – is geographically divided into several charming ‘hamlets.’

Orcas Village is the arrival point for the Washington State ferry. Here you’ll find gift shops, a grocery store, a post office, lodging, restaurants and outdoor activities.

West Sound features a marina, lodging possibilities, and a community center.

Deer Harbor is the farthest point West on Orcas, and offers full marina services, various lodging choices, a restaurant, and water activities.

Eastsound is the town center on Orcas, and extends beyond the village core. Eastsound proper is largely a walking village, offering shops of all kinds, many accommodation choices, a variety of restaurants, and many family & visitor activities. To the Southwest is Crow Valley, home to lodging, a museum, and the golf course. West Beach is due west from Eastsound and offers shops, lodging, and YMCA Camp Orkila. Located just to the South and East of Eastsound is Rosario, where you’ll find many lodging choices, as well as the famed resort of the same name, a restaurant, a general store, a marina, and lots of activities, including the nearby Moran State Park.

Olga & Doe Bay are small in size, but offer visitors many choices, including restaurants, lodging, arts & crafts galleries, and plenty of activities.

Getting to Orcas Island

By Car & Ferry
A leisurely ferry ride is the perfect transition to take you from the busy freeways of the mainland to the quiet country roads of the islands. (The ticket you purchase is for a round trip). Walk-on passengers are also welcome.

By Plane
Catch a small plane at various Northwest locations, including Seattle’s SeaTac airport, Boeing Field, Lake Union, or Lake Washington, and be on Orcas Island in approximately 45 to 60 minutes. Regular and charter flights are also available from other regional airports. Take a shuttle bus from SeaTac right to the Anacortes ferry landing.

By Boat
There are several docking options for boaters, from day moorage to marinas. Some seasonal favorites are Rosario, West Sound, Deer Harbor, Obstruction Pass, West Beach Resort, Olga & Eastsound.

Transportation options are found on page 20.

Important Ferry Information: Reservations are now available on Washington State Ferries to help make trip planning easier and more predictable. How do you save a spot? Go to www.takeaferry.com. There is no fee to make a reservation, however, you need a credit/debit card to reserve your spot. When you get to the tollbooth in Anacortes you will pay for your roundtrip fare. Reservations are highly recommended for travel to the islands and your return to Anacortes.

If you need to travel at the last minute or can’t make a reservation for the day you’d like to travel, try traveling standby. While you may not always get on the sailing of your choice, there is often space available when people don’t show up for their reservations or when reservation holders end up traveling at a different time.

See current sailing schedule at: www.wsdot.wa.gov/ferries

To Washington State Ferry from Interstate 5: Take exit #230, drive west on Hwy. 20 to Anacortes (30 minutes). Turn right on Commercial Ave. and drive north, turn left at the light on 12th St. The ferry terminal is two miles ahead.

BIKING ON ORCAS ISLAND

Orcas Island roads, with steep hills, blind curves, and sometimes little or no shoulder, are challenging for bike riders at every level of ability. Please use extreme caution when biking Orcas Island roads.

OBSERVE THE FOLLOWING SIMPLE GUIDELINES:

- After leaving the ferry, pull off the roadway until all ferry traffic has passed.
- Travel single file in small groups of 3 or 4, widely spaced apart.
- Stop only on straightaways and move completely off the road.
- Use bicycle turnouts whenever possible.
Unless you own a plane, you get really familiar with traveling to and from Orcas Island on the ferry. Everything changes the moment you arrive at the ferry landing and wait to board. For visitors who are used to the fast life, it can be a challenge to stop and be. For others who are here precisely for the peace and quiet, it’s a joy to eschew busy-ness.

Once on the ferry, if you choose the warmth of the passenger deck above, the views are stunning. The 60- to 80-minute ride to Orcas is relaxing; people are friendly and one can chat the whole time or enjoy the solitude. Either way, it’s a perfect segue to life on the island.

Once here, the serenity and beauty take over your being. Summer beauty here is stunning – crystal clear skies, views of mountains and the sea through the forest, and breathtaking colors all around. Winter beauty incites reflective contemplation and inward creativity – windswept seas; sylvan scenes; and nature in the palettes of grays, browns, and dark greens.

One thing you’ll experience in any season is the friendliness of our people. The time to chat. The eye contact and the waves from drivers along the road. A bit like Little House on the Prairie in modern times, Orcas Island is a place where locals greet each other throughout the day and tourists, once de-city-fied, no longer avert their eyes.

Whether living here or visiting here, Orcas Island is a storybook place to be.
Your choice in accommodations on Orcas Island is as varied as the island itself. Possibilities include charming Bed & Breakfasts, Inns, Hotels & Resorts of all types; and rental homes & cottages for your friends and family to enjoy.

The colored dots and grid identifiers next to a listing refer to the location on the maps at the back of the Guide. Listings without this information have no map location.

Orcas Island has a unique history, and a glimpse at that history can be found in its historic landmarks. The following is a sampling of those buildings. Please respect the buildings, grounds, and businesses that may be in these historic treasures.

Orcas Hotel (Orca Village)

Deer Harbor Community Club (Deer Harbor)
Built as the Deer Harbor School in 1905, it is now a community gathering spot.

Crow Valley School Museum (near Eastsound)
Built in 1888, and serving as the Crow Valley School until 1918, it now houses photos and artifacts. National Register of Historic Places.

Outlook Inn (Eastsound)
Previously housing a store, post office and barber shop, this 1888 structure took its present name in 1942.

Emmanuel Episcopal Church (Eastsound)
Modeled after an English country church, this 1886 building was designed by Rev. Sidney Gray, the first rector. National Register of Historic Places.

Orcas Island Historical Museum (Eastsound)
Six early settlers’ cabins (late 1800s) are featured on the Museum’s grounds. Originally from various parts of the island, each structure was reassembled at the site in 1956. See island artifacts; massive Heron sculpture.

Rosario Resort (near Eastsound)
Built in 1906 by Robert Moran, who also served as Mayor of Seattle, the mansion’s teak and brass recall Moran’s ship-building expertise. National Register of Historic Places.

Observation Tower on Mt. Constitution (Moran State Park)
Built by the Civilian Conservation Corps (WPA) in 1936, of sandstone hauled from nearby Sucia Island, it is patterned after 12th Century watchtowers of southeastern Europe.

Artworks Building in Olga (Olga)
Built in 1936 as a strawberry barreling plant on land owned by local strawberry growers, it is now a cooperative art gallery and café. Washington Heritage Register of Historic Places.

Doe Bay Post Office (Doe Bay)
Now part of an island resort, this 1908 building was part of a complete village port used for freight and passengers. National Register of Historic Places.

For more information about Orcas Island’s history and its Historic Places, please contact or visit the Orcas Island Historical Museum. The museum is open to the public, providing exhibits and presentations, as well as a research center for our island history. Visit OrcasMuseums.org, or call 360-376-4849.
Breakfast, lunch or dinner… Orcas Island restaurants offer an amazing range of delicious eating experiences in every price range. Farming and gathering has a long tradition on Orcas Island. Driving though Crow Valley to the regions of Doe Bay, you will find farms that have been here for over a century. Stop in at fisheries, businesses and restaurants featuring mouth-watering delicacies made with foods grown and gathered throughout the islands.

The San Juan Islands Agricultural Guild works to continue the traditions of island agriculture by providing support and opportunities to farmers and producers. Programs like the San Juan County Food Hub, Farmers to Farmland, Island Grown in the San Juans, and Brickworks commercial kitchen all work towards fostering a vibrant, resilient and sustainable local food system in San Juan County.

Experience the island way of life by:

• Stopping at a farm stand or visit the Farmers Market on Saturday.
• Visiting or staying on a farm is fun for the whole family and gives an opportunity for a deeper connection to where our food comes from.
• Picking up the San Juan County Farm and Food Product Guide, or the Farm and Food map to find the locations and hours of where to get locally made products.
• Looking for the Island Grown label advertising farms, products, restaurants and businesses committed to growing and supporting a thriving local food system and a sustainable, healthy future.

From soil to sea, celebrate the bounty of abundant farms and locally-produced food in our beautiful archipelago in the Salish Sea. For more information, visit www.sjiagguild.com.

Moran State Park is a must see! The park has over 5,500 acres to explore by foot, bike, horse, boat or car. There are 38 miles of trails, 5 freshwater lakes, picnic areas, overnight camping, a vacation house rental and an overnight retreat center that holds up to 144 people. We have beautiful flora, fauna and water falls as well as scenic views from the trails and/or from the comfort of your vehicle. Cascade Lake has a swimming beach, a playground for the kids, and fishing for bass, trout or Kokanee (a land locked Salmon) stocked from our hatchery. Concessions provide quick snacks and rentals for kayaks, row boats and paddle boats.

For the history buffs and architect enthusiasts, we have over 20 historical buildings that were built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the 1930s and ‘40s. The stone tower at the top of Mt Constitution contains information about Robert Moran and the CCC. The views from the top are spectacular. Interpretive panels provide information about panoramic views from the summit.

The Gift Shop (May-Sept) has something for everyone. It is staffed by volunteers for Friends of Moran.

All proceeds to Friends of Moran benefit Moran State Park projects and educational outreach. FOM is a 501(c)3 organization.

Moran is open year-round, but campsites fill up early in the summer, so call ahead to 888-CAMPOUT.
